Dear Readers,

As the new year 2024 has ushered in, it is time to thank the God Almighty and all those who have lent a helping hand to us in every way. It is now time to quit old bad habits and start new good ones. With the new year upon us that holds both the promise of a good start and a sense of the unknown, let us resolve to make some less common resolutions.

Listen more and judge less. Put aside past divisions and unite behind common causes. Strive everyday to exercise kindness and offer a smile to those who don't have one. We wish all the Brothers, Parents, Old boys, Teachers and Students a year filled with activities which can be worth reporting in Quest.

All the Best!

Warm Regards,

Editorial Team

Happy reading, everyone!"

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear Students , Teachers, Parents and Well Wishers,

As we look ahead to the New Year, we have many exciting opportunities and projects. We will continue to strive for academic excellence while focusing on social and emotional learning and character building. It is a time to set new goals and make positive changes in life. Let us strive to be our best selves and better version of ourselves than the previous year. Let us make the most of the new beginning and make the most of our time together. Thank you for the ongoing support and commitment to our school.

The New Year brings new hope, new opportunities and new possibilities. I am sure you will continue to excel in your academic pursuits and make a positive difference in the world.

“Remember do not expect to have it all to enjoy life; you have life to enjoy it all”.

I wish you all a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year.

THE STORY BEHIND THE NAMES OF COUNTRIES

Brazil : The name 'Brazil' is a shortened form of Terra do Brazil (Land of Brazil), a reference to the Brazil Wood Tree which is found in the coastal areas of South America. It was traded by Portuguese for its dye. It is the National Tree of Brazil. Brazil is the only country in South America where Portuguese language is spoken. The rest of the continent spends mostly Spanish.

Bolivia :

Bolivia is named after Simon Boliver, a Venezuelan leader in the Spanish American Wars of Independence. The official name of Bolivia is 'Plurinational State of Bolivia'.

Bolivia was the name of US President Andrew Jackson's horse.

Argentina :

Argentina is named after the shiny metal 'silver' which in Latin takes the name of 'Argentum' (Ag). It is believed that an Italian explorer acquired silver trinklet trading with local tribe Guarani and named the river Rio del la plata (River of Silver).

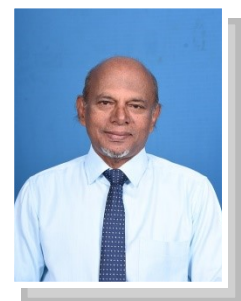

The Republic of Colombia

Columbia :
The name of 'Columbia' is named after the last name of the Italian navigator Christopher Columbus. It was conceived as a reference to all of the New World. The name 'Republic of Columbia' was adopted in 1819.

Ecuador :
The name 'Ecuador' is named after the Line of Latitude 'Equator'. which divides the country into two. It has even a monument to celebrate its location in the middle of the world near the capital city Quito. Since Ecuador is located on the bulging part of the earth namely Equator, its tallest volcanic mountain. 'Chimborazo' is believed to be closest part of the earth to the moon.

GRATITUDE

"Let us rise up and be thankful, for if we didn't learn a lot today, at least we learned a little, and if we didn't learn a little, at least we didn't get sick, and if we got sick, at least we didn't die, so let us all be thankful." -Gautama Buddha

THANK YOU

Gratitude is the feeling that prompts us to say "thank you".

Gratitude is an emotion. It is also called as the mother of all virtues. Life has always given us chance to be grateful. We have people to love, earth to live, talents to excel and opportunities to surpass. The feeling we get when we realize the blessings, we are bestowed upon is called as gratitude.

Gratitude is not feeling thankful only during good times but all times. This feeling becomes our character which allows us to find positive in people and situations even when difficulties drag us down.

"GRATITUDE

IS NOT FEELING
THANKFUL ONLY DURING GOOD TIMES BUT ALL TIMES. THIS FEELING BECOMES OUR CHARACTER WHICH ALLOWS US TO FIND POSITIVE IN PEOPLE AND SITUATIONS EVEN WHEN DIFFICULTIES DRAG US DOWN."

If life is a song, and we write its lyrics with gratitude then it would fit into any tune. When we look life through the lens of gratitude, we acknowledge our past, do the best in present and create a meaningful future.

Being aware of all the goodness around us and appreciating every encounter, engages us wholly in all the tasks we do. Because we have no time to think of what we don't have but to make the best of what we have. Gratitude can undo the effects of negative emotions.

Gratitude may combat the negative emotional processes that underpin unhappiness, burnout, and many psychological disorders.

Several studies have found that more grateful people experience less depression and are more resilient following traumatic events. Gratitude is associated with many benefits for individuals, including better physical and psychological health, greater happiness and life satisfaction, less materialism, and more.

In recent years, studies have examined gratitude's potential benefits for children and adolescents. Studies have found that more grateful adolescents are more interested and satisfied with their school lives, are more kind and helpful, and are more socially integrated.

A few studies have found that when children are asked to count their blessings in the classroom it improved their mood and made them feel more belonged. This is why our Government's new educational policy is designed to help students appreciate the benefits they have gained from others to exhibit more grateful behavior. Our KG students celebrated "Thanks- Giving Day" in the first week of February. They created 'Thank You cards' and showed their appreciation to all the supporting staffs in our school.

Only three things make a person gratitude, attitude and exactitude. When we develop the virtue of gratitude the other two would join with and make us a perfect individual.

Celebrating India's Republic Day: A Triumph of Democracy and Unity

- India's Republic Day, celebrated annually on January 26th, is a momentous occasion that marks the adoption of the Constitution of India. This day holds profound significance as it commemorates the transformation of India into a Sovereign, Democratic Republic, embracing a system that champions justice, liberty, equality, and fraternity. The day is marked with grandeur and patriotism, reflecting the diverse and vibrant tapestry of the nation.
- The roots of Republic Day can be traced back to the moment when the Indian Constitution came into effect on January 26, 1950. This historic event replaced the Government of India Act (1935) and marked India's transition from a colonial state to a self-governing republic. Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, the principal architect of the Indian Constitution, played a pivotal role in crafting a document that reflected the aspirations of a diverse and pluralistic society.
- Republic Day is celebrated with great enthusiasm and fervour throughout the country. The main event takes place in the capital city, New Delhi, at Rajpath, presently named as 'Kartavya Path' where the President of India unfurls the National Flag and the National Anthem is played. The grand parade that follows showcases the military might, cultural diversity, and technological advancements of the nation. The ceremony is attended by dignitaries, political leaders, and foreign guests, making it a symbol of India's unity in diversity.

- Republic Day is a time for citizens to express their patriotism and pride in being part of a democratic and secular nation. Schools, colleges, and communities organize events such as flag hoisting ceremonies, patriotic songs, and debates to instil a sense of national pride among the younger generation.
- The President of India presents prestigious awards like the Padma Bhushan, Padma Vibhushan, and Bharat Ratna on Republic Day to recognize exceptional contributions in various fields. These awards honour individuals who have excelled in areas such as science, literature, arts, public service, and sports, contributing to the nation's progress and development.
- India's Republic Day is a symbol of the nation's journey towards freedom, democracy, and unity. It is a day to celebrate the values that bind a diverse population together and reiterate the commitment to building a just and prosperous society. As the tricolour unfurls and patriotic fervour fills the air, Republic Day serves as a reminder of the shared responsibility to uphold the principles of the Constitution and strive towards a brighter and more harmonious future.

THE ART OF TIDYING UP

Introduction :

Did you know that six months of an average person's life is spent (wasted) in searching for misplaced things like cell phones, keys, shoes, pens, books, debit cards, money purse, kitchen utensils, watches, combs etc. If we could spend just two minutes every day to organise our office or home, we not only avoid unnecessary last minute tension but also save lot of our time. In this connection, it would be useful to know about the suggestions given by Marie Kondo.

Marie Kondo

Marie Kondo is a Japanese organising consultant, author and TV presenter. She has written four books on organising which have collectively sold millions of copies and translated into several languages. Her best-selling book 'The Life-changing Magic of Tidying up' earned her great fame and she was named to the 'TIME 100 list of world's most influential people'. She developed a method known as KonMari method, partly inspired by the Japanese Shinto religion.

KonMari Method

KonMari Method is a simple but effective tidying method ensuring that we will never again relapse to clutter. It suggests a unique selection criterion – Choosing what sparks joy – you are not choosing what to discard but rather choosing to keep only the items that speak to your heart. Through tidying, you can reset life and spend the rest of your life surrounded by people and things that you love the most.

SIX RULES OF TIDYING UP

Rule – I – Commit Yourself to Tidying up.

The Konmari method is not a quick fix for a messy room as a once – in – a while approach to tidying. You should first of all be convinced that you should tidy up things and should have a can – do – attitude. The effort is worth it at the end.

Rule – II – Imagine your Ideal Lifestyle

This method is not about decluttering or making it neat on the spur of the moment for the visitors who come to your home. This is about that kind of house you want to live in

The six basic rules of tidying.

RULE 01

Commit yourself to tidying up.

RULE 02

Imagine your ideal lifestyle.

RULE 03

Finish discarding first.

RULE 04

Tidy by category, not by location.

RULE 05

Follow the right order.

RULE 06

Ask yourself if it sparks joy.

and what kind of office you want to work in. You don't do it to show off to others. You do it because it brings you joy of living in a congenial atmosphere.

Rule – III – Finish Discarding First

Remember to focus on what you want to keep. All other things have to be discarded. Cherish the items that bring you joy and let go of the rest with gratitude, especially the things you have never used. She suggests discarding some sentimental items like some photos.

Rule – IV – Tidy by Category, Not by Location

It might seem sensible to tidy up a shelf, a closet or a room at a time. But tidying up this way will again lead to clutter. So you are suggested to tidy up by category like clothes, books, papers, sentimental items etc.

Rule – V – Follow the Right Order.

You can start with clothes which is fairly easy and end up with sentimental items. As you move with each category your energy and enthusiasm increases.

Rule – VI – Ask Yourself if It Sparks Joy

The understanding what kind of environment makes you happy is the most essential criteria for decision making. You pick each item and ask yourself 'Does this sparks joy?' 'If it does, keep it, otherwise discard it.

Conclusion :

So to conclude, when you tidy your space completely, you transform the scenery. The change is so profound that you feel as if you are living in a totally different world. Let us then try this method to make our life more organized and avoid unnecessary wastage of our time, energy, anxiety and tension.

Dear Students, start tidying up your classroom, your room at home and the place you work. You will acquire the joy of the ambience around you and a clear environment.
